Wipe It Up!

The future looks bright for non-woven industrial wipes! With offices and facilities back in full swing demand for wipes is on the rise.

The consumer wipes market is expected to reach $19.49 billion in sales this year. Single-use wipes are increasingly popular due to their convenience, efficiency, and ease of use. Wipes also help save time on cleaning tasks and eliminate concerns of dilution control, cross contamination, and rising labor costs. In addition to saving labor time, there are no costs associated with laundering.

Check Out Pro Chem's line of single-use wipes for cleaning, hand hygiene, insect repellent, and disinfecting.
